THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1901.

On our first page will be seen a communication from Representative Raulston and the amendments incorporated in the bond bill, which we understand has passed both House and Senate. Mr. Raulston should be credited for his attention in this matter and his desire to anticipate the pressing need of the county for good roads is commendable.

The commissioners are men who are well known to the people and in performing their duties we think will be influenced by a desire to accomplish the best results for the entire county.

The county court has a still larger responsibility on its shoulders than the commission and we hope that neither politics nor prejudice will influence its action, but that it will apply good business principles to the consideration of the matter looking to the development of the county.

The idea of having an additional mail brought to this valley and return on the local freight is reported to have been abandoned as impracticable. The N. C. & St. L. R'y is said to have opposed the plan on account of not being prepared to handle mail per freight train. Perhaps some other scheme may be devised whereby the valley will receive additional mail and train service.

PARTIES from Peoria, Ill., have bought from H. Clay Evans, receiver, the property of the East Chattanooga Land Co., originated in the 1887 boom, comprising 1638 acres, and under the name of the Southern Land & Lumber Co., will develop the property by establishing saw mills, brick yards and other industries. We wish some parties could be induced to take hold and develop Sequachee.

WHITWELL FLASHES.

Jim Price is the advance agent of the Grand Buffalo Association. Ask him about it.

Depot agent Chastain says that merchandise is now piling into town in the same old way, and that it keeps him and Mrs. Chastain on the move to keep track of it.

The people of Whitwell are all anxious to see better roads in this section of country. With better roads and such good stores as are plentiful here, trade would come from a long distance.

Gravson & Son are making big improvements to their store property by raising the building some eighteen inches thus making room for a commodious basement in which to store the coarser articles of commerce. A stairway inside the store will be cut leading to it, and the present partitions between the two back rooms will be removed and the whole space devoted to display of millinery and ing.

IS NOW A GRADUATE.

W. Lewis Brings Honor and a Credit to Old Marion.

The Medical department of the University of Nashville held its fiftieth annual commencement last week and our friend A. W. Lewis, of Whitwell, who has been attending the session, achieved honor and distinction by carrying off first mention on the honor roll. This eclipses all previous records made by students in this section and we congratulate Mr. Lewis on his success. We like to see the sons of Marion making the old county famous.

The following account of the graduation will prove interesting to many of our readers:

The fiftieth annual commencement of the Medical Department of the University was witnessed by a large audience.

Palms and spring flowers adorned the platform. Draped on the wall were the stars and stripes and the university banners of garnet and blue. An orchestra gave a musical programme in the faculty in caps and gowns filled in.

Rev. John J. Tigert, D. D., delivered the invocation, Dr. S. S. Crockett presided over the exercises, owing to the illness of the Dean, Dr. W. G. Ewing.

Hon. James M. Head made a scholarly address to the graduates and spoke of the great medical men who were the founders of this school. He paid a glowing tribute to Dr. T. L. Madden, who was seated on the platform, and who has been connected with the school for nearly fifty years. He congratulated the graduates upon having such an alma mater. "In fact," said he, "every loyal citizen should feel a deep and abiding interest in the University of Nashville, for it is older than the State of Tennessee, having been founded in 1795, and formed the nucleus for our Athens of the South and was largely instrumental in keeping alive the spirit of education in our darkest days."

John Stennis Adams of Mississippi, delivered the valedictory in well-chosen and feeling language.

Dr. S. S. Crockett complimented the class and said their record surpassed any former graduates. He presented the class to the Chancellor of the University, Dr. W. H. Payne, who conferred the degree of Doctor of Medicine, and they were presented their diplomas by Dr. James S. King.

Dr. J. J. Tigert, on behalf of the faculty, presented the medals of honor as follows: First honor, University of Nashville medal, an internate at the City Hospital, Thompson Anderson, Tennessee; second honor, alumni medal, to Horace Lamar Jones, Tennessee; third honor, W. K. Bowling medal, to Elsie Tupper Laurence of Mississippi.

Those on the honor roll making an average above 95 per cent. were: A. W. Lewis, Holland McTyeire Tigert, W. L. Garland, L. B. Watkins, W. S. Alexander, T. J. Farrar, S. H. Smith, J. L. Woodall.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla and they greatly aid that medicine in its cleansing and purifying work.

Use Mrs. Lea's Milk and Butter PURIFIER

Nothing contributes more to the comfort of living than pure, sweet milk and butter, and nothing has been sought by farmers, dairymen and cheese makers more than a cow-food which will thoroughly eradicate and eliminate from milk the much, taint, and taste of garlic, onions, buds, clover, etc., and the various noxious weeds upon which cattle feed. We have at last found such an article in Mrs. Lea's Milk and Butter Purifier, and it does its work perfectly. It has been tried for six years without a failure, and each package is put upon the market with a guarantee.

It is put up in the form of a powder, is a pure food tonic, good for the cow, and makes the milk from cows fed on it more wholesome for the human stomach, especially children and invalids, than the milk from cows not so fed. We have had this food carefully and thoroughly analyzed by Dr. J. W. St. John, Professor of Chemistry at the University of Virginia. Put up in 5c packages. For sale by all grocers.
